

Current interaction model

Data science interacts with and interprets the needs of epis, and procures systems and infrastructure they feel are needed.

These systems and infrastructure elements are delivered to the infrastructure team to run.

